STIFF FIGHT OVER BAND

HOUSE APPROPRIATES MONEY AFTER MUCH DISCUSSION

Kaniho Would Have Band Play at Departure of Island Steamers—Hoogs Suggests the Trains—Ewaliko Wants Band for Hilo.

It was "Oh, listen to the Band" in the House on Monday afternoon. The question was fought over from start to finish and enough wind wasted on the measure to supply the band with motive power for the next biennial period. Ewaliko began the symphony by moving to strike out the entire appropriation. This created considerable of an ovation, pitched in different keys. The band supporters rallied around the appropriation for some moments, until Emmeluth arose and spoke in support of the Hilo statement's motion.

"In discussing this item," he said, "we have to look at it from various standpoints. Do we want to perpetuate the conditions of the past? Do we want to use the money of the outside country for the benefit of Honolulu?" "Yes!" exclaimed Hoogs.

"The honorable gentleman can't be blamed for that," retorted Emmeluth, "for he has long been tied up to that principle. But," he continued, "if we refuse this appropriation the business men of this city will soon get up enough money by subscription to keep the band running for the next two years."

Kaniho then led off with an oratorio concert all his own. He stated that he had been in favor of assassinating the band at first, but, on mature consideration, he thought it wise to give it a new lease of life. But in the future he was in favor of having the band play at the sailing of all the Hawaiian steamers. Hoogs suggested the trains also. Pandemonium then broke loose. Hoogs wanted to appropriate $500 for Kaniho's quintet club in Kohala. Beckley wanted $2,000 for the Lahaina band, and Ewaliko wanted a similar sum for the Hilo musicians.

The following appropriations were finally agreed upon:

Entomologist, $4,000; Commissioner and Chief Forester, $4,200; Bandmaster, $2,800; thirty bandmen, $29,160; two lady vocalists, $1,800; Auditor, $5,000; Deputy Auditor, $4,000; clerical assistance, $15,000.

CALIFORNIA LYNCHING BEE

Bieber, May 31.—One of the worst cases of lynching known in California occurred last night at Lookout, twelve miles from Alturas, in Modoc county, when old Calvin Hall, 72 years of age, was hanged by a mob of forty masked men, with his three sons and a friend, Dan Yantis.

Hall formerly lived with an Indian squaw, and by her had three boys, aged 26, 19 and 14 years. The family was worthless and lately had been suspected of many petty thefts. Finally a constable went to the house with a search warrant and found hay forks, harness, barbed wire and other things that had been recently stolen. All were arrested, but the old man was released on a charge of simple theft, while the sons and Yantis were kept in custody on charges of burglary because they could not furnish $500 bail.

The neighbors evidently determined to rid the country of the worthless gang, but instead of tarring and feathering them, they took all five out at midnight and, without giving them any chance for defense, hanged them to Pitt river bridge.

Soldiers on Rampage

San Francisco, June 1.—A mob of several hundred soldiers last night wrecked Mrs. Powers' saloon, at the corner of Baker and Greenwich streets, gave three policemen the fight of their lives, nearly beat to death Private Harris of the Fifteenth Cavalry and was only quelled by the appearance of a fire company, which turned a hose on the rioters, and by a guard from the reservation, which charged them with fixed bayonets. Strange to say, no one was seriously injured. A general discharge following pay day on the reservation, the discharge of the Forty-sixth and a rumor that a soldier had died from "knockout drops" administered in the saloon caused the disturbance.

Oil in Northwest

Tacoma, Wash., May 30.—A small flow of black crude petroleum was struck yesterday at a depth of 198 feet in an oil well being sunk by the Puget Sound Petroleum Company of this city four miles west of Tenino and fourteen miles south of Olympia.

It has been supposed that a depth of 800 to 1,500 feet would be necessary to strike oil in this State, as the formation tilts upward from California. Seven other test wells are being sunk in the Puget Sound country.
